

MRS. M. B. PELL WILLS $3,000,000 TO PUBLIC

Columbia, Rutgers and Reformed Church Get a Million Each.

LEAVES DOGS TO COUSIN

Servant Gets $2,000 and a Salary to Look After the Animals.

Columbia University, Rutgers College and the Reformed Church in America have received bequests estimated at $1,000,000 each as the three principal beneficiaries under the will of Mrs. Mary B. Pell, who died on May 26 at 182 Riverside Drive and was the widow of John H. Pell.

Each beneficiary received a direct bequest of $200,000 and an interest in large trust funds aggregating more than $2,000,000.

Mrs. Pell also made a few small bequests to institutions and remembered her own servants, with sums ranging from $5,000 to $200. Her nearest relatives were several cousins, but each received the income of a large trust fund and valuable bequests of silverware, paintings and china.

In the last of two codicils Mrs. Pell disposed of her many dogs, which she gave to her cousin, Mary E. Zabriskie, with this direction:

"I want them to always receive the same care I have given them and that, I know, is also the wish of my cousin, Mary E. Zabriskie, to whom they will belong."

To make certain that her pets would receive the care she desired for them Mrs. Pell provided that Miss Zabriskie, one of her servants, "who has always been thoughtful and kind in looking after the dogs, shall receive $25 a month for that work alone so long as she remains in the employ of Miss Zabriskie." Miss Zabriskie also got a direct bequest of $2,000.

Mrs. Pell was the owner of valuable parcels of real estate, among which was the southwest corner of Cortlandt street and Broadway, or 171 Broadway. She directed the Metropolitan Trust Company, executor under her will, to sell this property and create from its proceeds life trusts for her relatives, of which one of $285,000 was set aside for Miss Mary E. Zabriskie.

The direct bequests of $200,000 to Columbia, Rutgers and the General Synod of the Reformed Church in America are to be paid out of this fund. The bequest to the Reformed Church for the purpose of building the Wesley Memorial Hall at the theological seminary at New Brunswick, N. J., and the same name is to be adopted for a memorial hall to be erected with the bequest to Rutgers.

The fund for Columbia is to erect Pell Hall, in memory of the deceased's husband, who was an alumnus of Columbia. The property at Broadway and Cortlandt street was assessed at $1,450,000 in 1912, without the building. If there is any surplus from the proceeds of this property the money is to be divided among the three beneficiaries.

Miss Zabriskie is to have the life income of the properties at 182 and 184 Riverside Drive, and after her death the properties are to be sold and the proceeds divided among the three principal beneficiaries.

Mrs. Pell left $500 to the Church for Colored People at Paramus, N. J., which was built by her mother, and $5,000 to the consistory of the Reformed Church at Paramus, to create a fund for current expenses. The Five Points Mission and the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals get $500 each.

Mrs. Pell explained that she left nothing to five brothers and sisters of her deceased husband because she had already given them money and securities in large amounts.

The testatrix asked the general synod of the Reformed Church to care for two family burial plots, but said:

"I prefer that the request shall appear in the papers as being a recommendation rather than to depend upon a legal obligation."

She cancelled a bequest of $500 to a servant, Maggie Curtis, because the latter left her employ and went to England to marry.

WESTPORT WRECK HERO JAILED.

Donnelly Aided Woman From Burning Car—Her Diamonds Gone.

Stamford, Conn., June 5.—Hanford Donnelly, who was hailed as a hero on November 3 last when the Boston Express jumped a crossover at Westport and was wrecked, seven being killed, was arrested to-day for alleged theft of diamonds valued at $3,000, carried by Mrs. Philip James of Lake Forest, Ill., a passenger on the train. The police say Donnelly has confessed and that two worth of the diamonds have been recovered.

Donnelly was a chauffeur employed by a local clergyman. He was first to reach the wrecked train and helped Mrs. James and others out of a burning car.

A week or so after the wreck Donnelly received a call from Mrs. James' representative and turned her satchel over to him. The diamonds were not in the bag, but Donnelly denied any knowledge of them. He has been watched constantly by detectives ever since, and a few days ago when he attempted to sell some diamonds the police got them and then arrested Donnelly.

Sentenced to Get Well.

After E. R. 37, years old and a convict, got a suspended sentence from Judge Swann in General Sessions Court yesterday on condition that he take a course of treatment at Riverside Hospital, on North Brother Island. He pleaded guilty to stealing thirteen pairs of shoes, his honesty and previous industry were vouched for by the Rev. George Benson Cox of Trinity Church.

POPE PRAISES W. J. BURNS.

Pontiff Commends His Work and Gives Special Blessing.

Rome, June 5.—W. J. Burns, head of the American detective agency which bears his name, accompanied by his wife, had an audience with the Pope to-day.

Mr. Burns said afterward that the Pope's face was the finest he ever saw and he was deeply impressed by his appearance. The health of the Pope, Mr. Burns says, is good and he shows no trace of his recent illness. He walks firmly and his voice is strong and clear. The Pope entered the anteroom and after a few words of welcome blessed the pilgrims, but when Mr. Burns was pointed out to him he approached and offered him a ring to kiss. He blessed some devotional articles which were carried by Mrs. Burns.

The Pope expressed his pleasure at meeting Mr. Burns, who, he said, had spent his life in aiding justice. He praised Mr. Burns' good work and gave him a special blessing.

ESCAPING BOY LEAPS 6 FEET, DROPS 2 STORIES

Makes Thrilling Attempt to Get Out of Brooklyn Institution.

Fifteen-year-old Howard Perry thrilled several hundred persons yesterday afternoon by a series of risky leaps in an unsuccessful attempt to escape from the rooms of the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Children in Schermerhorn street, Brooklyn.

The boy was taken to the society's building after Justice Mayo in the Children's Court had committed him to the New York Juvenile Asylum on a charge of larceny. With others he was confined on the sixth floor.

Breaking a screen on a window he jumped six feet to the roof of 109, next door, and running across the roof took a flying leap over a six foot chasm to the adjoining house, a story below. He then dropped two stories to the roof of an extension in the rear.

From the top of this he jumped into a tree five feet away. The branches broke his fall. He clambered over a ten foot fence to the yard of 117 and ran through a narrow alley to the front of the building, where he was confronted with a fence twelve feet high.

By this time the boy's strength was gone. Several women who had witnessed his feats fainted. The officers of the society were notified and they took the boy back to the institution.

Save for a few bruises he was none the worse for his experience. He will be taken to the Juvenile Asylum to-day.

STRIKE IN DEFENCE OF FLAG.

Hoboken Hattermakers Go Out Because English Foreman Insulted It.

One hundred and fifty hattermakers went on strike at the Fletcher Iron Works in Hoboken yesterday because of an alleged insult to the American flag by an Englishman who was employed there as foreman.

The foreman, John Fletcher, who has no relation to the owners, quit three months ago to return to Canada. The men say that when he left he waved aloft an English flag and said it was the only one fit to work under.

Last week Fletcher reappeared and got back his old job. Then the men sent a committee to Andrew Fletcher, the owner, to protest. He wouldn't listen to them, so yesterday they walked out.

COX FREE ON BANK CHARGE.

Judge Orders Acquittal and Prosecutor Will Appeal.

CINCINNATI, June 5.—Following the instructions of Judge John A. Caldwell, the jury in Criminal Court which has been trying George B. Cox, former political boss, and four other officers of the former Cincinnati Trust Company for alleged violations of the banking laws, this afternoon returned a verdict acquitting the five men.

The alleged withdrawal of a note for $322,500 from the assets of the bank was the principal charge against the accused. Several other directors are still to be tried in the case.

The Attorney-General and the County Prosecutor issued statements declaring that in their opinion Judge Caldwell erred in ordering to-day's verdict and announcing that the case would be taken to the Supreme Court.

ANOTHER STANDARD OIL MELON.

New York Company Will Announce a 400 Per Cent. Stock Dividend.

The stockholders of the Standard Oil Company of New York yesterday voted to increase the capitalization of the company from $15,000,000 to $75,000,000. There were no votes against the increase, 121,589 shares out of 150,000 outstanding being voted.

The directors of the company will announce the distribution of the new stock as a 400 per cent. stock dividend to-day, and it is expected that it will be distributed to stock of record of June 13.

This action just now when financial conditions are so unsettled is considered somewhat remarkable, although it was discounted some time ago.

There have been seven large stock distributions among the companies which once made up the Standard Oil Company. The Standard Oil Company of Indiana declared one of 2,900 per cent., the Standard Oil Company of Nebraska one of 54 1/3 per cent., the Standard Oil Company of Kansas one of 100 per cent., the South Penn Oil Company one of 400 per cent., the Continental Oil Company one of 900 per cent., and the Solar Refining Company one of 300 per cent.

38 I. W. W. STRIKERS GUILTY IN PATERSON

May Get One to Three Years in Prison for Unlawful Assemblage.

HANNAH ARRESTED AGAIN

Helen Keller Sends Money and Letter Telling Strikers to Keep Up Fight.

PATERSON, N. J., June 5.—Thirty-eight silk strike pickets who were arrested for unlawful assembly in front of the Harding mill on April 26 were found guilty to-day by a jury in Judge Kienert's Quarter Sessions Court. They will be sentenced to-morrow or on Monday. The penalty may be from one to three years in prison or $1,000 fine.

Among those convicted are Hannah Silverman, the seventeen-year-old picket leader, and Benjamin Hagedorn, a local leader of the I. W. W. Miss Silverman has been arrested so many times that the police are exhausted.

After two days in jail for interfering with a policeman she got out on a writ of certiorari. This morning she went to Recorder Carroll's Court as a spectator at the trial of Harry Price, a striker arrested last night for assaulting two women mill workers.

In the course of an argument between the Recorder and Lawyer Isidor Kienert, appearing for Price, Miss Silverman tittered and then hissed.

"Come up here," ordered the Judge. "You're getting altogether too fresh around here. I commit you to the county jail for twenty days as a disorderly person in a public place."

So Hannah is in jail, and seems likely to stay there until the strike is ended. She was to have starred in the I. W. W. pageant in Madison Square Garden on Saturday. She said as she went to a cell: "I guess I jumped from the frying pan into the fire." Price was sent to jail for three months.

In summing up at the trial of the picketers to-day Assistant Prosecutor Force said that public sentiment demanded their conviction and that it was for the jury to decide whether Paterson is governed by law or mob. Only three of the forty-one prisoners were acquitted. The strike committee received to-day from Miss Helen Keller, the blind girl, a check for $48.88 to help "in their brave fight for the most elemental justice—the right to live."

"The accounts I have read of the strikers' self-sacrifice and indomitable courage fill me with admiration. Their cause is my cause. I feel their hunger, their privation in my eyes starved of light. I feel their loneliness in my own physical dependence, and I cannot be happy while conditions exist that make childhood bitter and motherhood a sorrow."

"It is true I am not one of the victims of wrong industrial conditions, but the weight of the burdens that the workers of the world carry lies heavy on my heart. Strange that there should be a right feeling human being who does not sympathize with them, who does not use every means in his power to help them in their struggle."

"To think there should be men who will obey orders and fire upon their brothers at command of an officer! What a comfort such blind obedience must be to the minds of the masters. It is a duty of the plainest kind for every one of us to hold out a helping hand to our comrades in Paterson. Much depends on the way we win it will be easier for other workers to stand up and claim their rights."

A committee of fifteen of the central strike committee was appointed to-day to confer with the mill owners and ask for a hearing on a proposal to return to work, but 2,000 strikers at a meeting decided to stand firm. There was a hint of threatened sabotage in a resolution passed by the central committee and addressed to the mill owners.

"It will be a dangerous proposition to starve these men back to work," the black hate in their hearts and it would be unwise to allow them to handle costly products worth many thousands of dollars."

Because of the long drawn out strike in the Hudson county silk mills in sympathy with the Paterson strike the Schwarzenbach-Huber Silk Company closed its Union Hill mills, employing over 3,000 hands yesterday. The firm is contemplating moving its business to the South.

THOUGHT CANCER INFECTIOUS.

Swiss Hotel Manager Sues American After Death of Wife.

GENEVA, June 5.—Mrs. F. J. Huntington, wife of a business man of Norwich, Conn., died some time ago of cancer at a Geneva hotel. The proprietor, who believed that cancer was infectious, had the bedroom furniture destroyed and the latter contested the case.

Judge Barde in rendering a decision to-day awarded the proprietor $155, but at the same time rebuked him for bringing the case into court, saying the reputation of the best Swiss hotels was more important than money. The proprietor, he said, should have settled the case out of court.

The Judge also informed the hotel man that the infectiousness of cancer had not been proved.

FATHER'S REVOLVER KILLS BOY.

Ventre Arrested for Keeping Weapon Not Used as Plaything.

Joseph Ventre, 14 years old, found a revolver in his father's dresser drawer yesterday, played with it and shot himself in the abdomen. Later he died at the Reception Hospital.

Last night the father, Mario Ventre, was arrested at his home, 317 East 108th street, and locked up charged with violation of the Sullivan law.

ADMITTS MURDER, BUT IS FREE.

Trial on Charge of Shooting Had Resulted in Acquittal.

COLUMBUS, Ohio, June 5.—Federal District Judge J. E. Sater and his court were started to-day when a witness in a damage suit confessed to a murder of which he had been acquitted and then boldly walked from the room. Because of this acquittal he cannot be tried again.

Lee Cage, a union ironworker, of Wheeling, W. Va., made the confession. It caused a speedy settlement of the case of David J. Reardon, administrator, against the County Commissioners of Jefferson county.

Reardon brought suit for $5,000 damages for the death of his brother, John J. Reardon, a Pittsburg detective, who was shot and killed in Steubenville, Ohio, in May, 1910. Attorneys for Jefferson county offered to pay $1,500 in cash and all the costs of the case, which was accepted by the attorneys for Reardon, and the case was closed.

John J. Reardon was employed by the La Belle Iron Works of Steubenville to look after its property during the strike. Two weeks later, while in Steubenville, he was shot down. A dozen bullets were found in his body.

Cage, a member of the Iron Workers' union, was arrested. He entered a plea of not guilty and the trial resulted in his prompt acquittal. When the damage case was called to-day Cage offered to testify.

He made a full confession of the crime. Cage said that the first shots were fired by the detective and that he answered with a volley.

Cage admitted that he recognized that a confession from him at this time could not be used against him as he had been tried and acquitted of the murder.

"The story of Cage was the most brutal and brazen that I have ever heard," said Judge Sater later. "If there ever was a miscarriage of justice it was in the case of Cage."

TIMOTHY COLE NOW AN ACADEMY IMMORTAL

Unusual Honor Conferred on Latter Day Wood Engraver.

Timothy Cole, who is recognized as one of the foremost contemporary masters of wood engraving, has been made a member of the American Academy of Arts and Letters, of which William Dean Howells is president. His election leaves only one vacancy in the membership of fifty.

Others of the "immortals" in the academy's department of art are the painters La Farge, Winslow Homer, Abbey, Millet, Alexander, Blashfield, Brush, Chase, Sargent, Thayer and Vedder, the sculptors Saint Gaudens, Ward, Herbert Adams, Bartlett and French, and the architects McKim, Hastings, Mead and Post.

Mr. Cole was born in London in 1852. His family came to the United States when he was 6 years old. He was living in Chicago when the great fire of 1871 left him penniless and in 1875 he came to New York, where he found employment on the Century, then Scribner's Magazine.

It was not long before his sympathetic interpretation of pictures attracted wide attention and in 1883 he was sent abroad to engrave a series of blocks after the old masters in the European galleries. This series was shown in the Century magazine and was published later in book form with notes by Mr. Cole. He is at present making a similar set of engravings from masterpieces in American galleries.

The work of Mr. Cole, produced as it was at a time when mechanical processes had rendered wood engraving almost a lost art, attracted unusual interest. He received a medal of the first class at the Paris Exposition of 1900 and the only grand prize given for wood engraving at the Louisiana Purchase Exposition in 1904.

OVER 200 LEAVE SING SING.

Convicts Will Work on Roads and Sleep in Tents.

ALBANY, June 5.—Superintendent of Prisons Riley has ordered the transfer from Sing Sing of 136 convicts to Auburn and 36 to Clinton. It is expected that 50 convicts will also be transferred from Sing Sing to Great Meadows Prison within the next few days.

Supt. Riley intends to employ convicts whose term of exile during the present summer on highways within a radius of thirty miles of the several prisons. Clinton Prison is already provided with a tent equipment for thirty convicts and this will be enlarged, so that soon it will be possible to employ 100 convicts on highways.

WHITE PLAINS, June 5.—The Grand Jury investigation of Sing Sing State Prison asked for by Warden John A. Kennedy and ordered by Gov. Sulzer was continued behind closed doors to-day. Two convicts from Great Meadows testified and Dr. Merens, the Sing Sing prison physician, was also a witness.

MAYOR WALKS; CITY HELP NEEDED.

Sees Them Motoring Like Monarchs as He Trudges Alone.

Mayor Gaynor thinks that city employees shouldn't ride around "like monarchs" in municipal automobiles. He told Borough President Connolly of that thought when he was asked to estimate the cost of another automobile for his borough.

"I personally am inclined to accede to the request," the Mayor told Connolly. "as I think you know what you need. But there are too many of these automobiles, I think. Not only that, but the city employees have a habit of riding to and from business in them in great state, riding like monarchs going from their homes. I know it, for I've often seen them when I've been walking."

The Mayor said that Comptroller Prendergast holds the same opinion as himself.

JUSTICE GERARD TO GET POST AT MADRID

Spanish Mission Will Be Raised to an Embassy and Pay $17,500 a Year.

MR. MCCOMBS FOR FRANCE

President Confers With Many Senators on Long Diplomatic State.

WASHINGTON, June 5.—President Wilson has settled upon a large number of diplomatic appointments. He went to the Capitol to-day and conferred with Senators from twelve States in regard to the filling of diplomatic posts.

Among the men who are on the President's slate is Justice James W. Gerard of New York, who will be appointed United States Minister to Spain. Justice Gerard will undoubtedly have Ambassadorial rank, as a bill was reported favorably to-day by the Senate Committee on Foreign Relations raising the mission to Spain to the grade of an embassy with an annual salary of $17,500.

New York State is likely to have also the Ambassadorship to France. It is understood to-night that William F. McCombs, the chairman of the Democratic National Committee, still has the post to Paris under consideration and his friends here believe now that he will accept. Mr. McCombs is now in France.

MORSE BUYING UP JUDGMENTS.

Friends in Home Town Aid Him by Furnishing Money.

Following the recent election of Charles W. Morse as president of the known Navigation Company it became known yesterday that the Bath Trust Company of Mr. Morse's home town in Maine is buying up judgments against Mr. Morse with money furnished by himself or his friends.

The fact came out in the Supreme Court when a motion before Justice Gierke to punish Morse for contempt of court for failing to appear for examination in supplementary proceedings on March 23 was withdrawn on the ground that the judgment had been transferred.

The judgment was got by Montrose W. Houck in 1908 and he has been trying to examine Morse in supplementary proceedings ever since Morse was released from Atlanta.

PRINCE ALBERT AT LEAFFROG.

Plays With Other Cadets in Streets of Montreal.

MONTREAL, June 5.—One of the most enthusiastic and unqualified boyish lads of the sixty-eight cadets of his Majesty's ship Cumberland who passed through the city this evening on their way to Toronto and Niagara Falls was Prince Albert, second son of King George V. of England.

The visit being an informal one there was no one at the station to bid the Prince welcome, consequently he conducted himself as a normal, high spirited, healthy boy on a holiday. After supper the boys, including the Prince, started a game of leap frog in the middle of St. Louis street, a little used thoroughfare.

JUDGE W. C. NOYES RESIGNS.

Says His Salary of $7,000 a Year Is Too Small.

WASHINGTON, June 5.—The resignation of Judge Walter C. Noyes of the United States District Court for the Second Federal District comprising New York, Connecticut and Vermont, has been accepted by the President.

Judge Noyes, in resigning, wrote the President that the salary of $7,000 a year was too small for him properly to support his family. He has a wife and three children. He will go into business for himself, and will probably open a law office in New York city.

He has been a Federal Judge since 1907, and before that was a State Judge in Connecticut. He is noted as an authority on railroad and corporation law and will devote himself to that branch. He is the author of "Intercompany Relations" and "American Railway Rates."

NET FOR FUGITIVES COMPLETE.

Paraguay, Last Refuge, Now Has an Extradition Treaty.

WASHINGTON, June 5.—The last asylum in all the world for American fugitives from justice was closed by the Senate to-day in the ratification of an extradition treaty with the republic of Paraguay. There has been for some time a popular impression that the extradition treaty with Honduras had left no country in which American absconders could be safe from the arm of the law. This was incorrect, for until to-day there was no extradition treaty in force between the United States and Paraguay. The treaty was reported favorably by the Senate Committee on Foreign Relations to-day and promptly ratified.

The Senate committee likewise reported favorably the bill introduced by Senator Bacon, with the approval of Secretary of State Bryan, raising the mission to Spain to the rank of an embassy, and creating a senate mission to the republic of Paraguay, which has heretofore been included in the credentials to the Minister to Uruguay.

WILSON GETS HIS LATCHKEY.

Sends for Senators at the Capitol From His Own Room.

WASHINGTON, June 5.—President Wilson now carries a key to the President's room in the Senate end of the Capitol. On his fourth call to-day, coming to consult the President, he found the Senate had adjourned for the day, that the Capitol was practically deserted and he had difficulty in gaining entrance to the room. Finally he found a negro messenger, who brought the key, and after the messenger had unlocked the door and started to carry the key away the President called him back.

"Here, here! I wish you would have me a duplicate key made for this door so that I can gain an entrance whenever I want to do so," directed the President.

The messenger passed the request on to the sergeant at arms, who came in hurriedly after he learned the President was in the Capitol. Before the President left for the White House he had been supplied with a duplicate key.

He remained alone in the room for ten minutes before the Senate attaches were able to find any of the Senators the President desired to interview.

CARDINAL LOSES HIS MIND.

Vives y Tuto Thinks He's Pope—Orders Moderates Exterminated.

LONDON, June 6.—Cardinal Vives y Tuto, who has been ill for several months with nervous breakdown, has become mad, according to the Milan correspondent of the Daily Chronicle. He imagines himself the Pope and has ordered the extermination of the Moderates by medieval penalties.

The Pope sent the Cardinal his blessing about three weeks ago when his condition became serious.

OPERATION ON GOMPERTS TO-DAY.

His Condition Is Serious and Outcome Is Doubtful.

WASHINGTON, June 5.—A serious operation will be performed to-morrow on Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, who was rushed to the Episcopal Eye, Ear and Throat Hospital here from Atlantic City to-day.

Dr. Henry A. Polk, who will perform the operation, said that the operation will be a serious one. There are grave doubts felt over the outcome, he admitted. The general rundown condition of Mr. Gompers and his age count against him.
